

THE DAILY SENTINEL,

RUFUS KING & W. H. WATSON,
PROPRIETORS.

Under the Name and Firm of Rufus King & Co.

MILWAUKEE,
Tuesday Morning, Sept. 16.FOR FREE KANSAS, FREE STATE,
FREE SPEECH—FREMONT!FOR PRESIDENT
JOHN C. FREMONT.FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM L. DAYTON.

FOR ELECTORS.

EDWARD B. DODD,
State at Large — EDWARD B. KNOWLTON,
1st District — GIDEON MILLER,
Ido — WALTER D. MCDOWELL,
FOR CONGRESS,
1st District — JOHN F. POTTER,
Ido — CADWELL C. WIGGINS.“I SWEAR THAT I NEVER CAN AND NEVER WILL FAIL TO MAKE MY VOTE FOR FREMONT NOT EXCEPT IN MY GRAVE.”

DAVID W. CLAY.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION,
THIRD DISTRICT.

CONVENTION FOR THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

FOR THE THIRD CONVENTION OF THE
STATE AT THE OHIO ROOM IN THE HOTEL OF DODD
LAC, on the 25th day of September instant 1856 whichMr. for the purpose of placing in nomination a suitable candidate to be supported at the next election for Member of Congress, who is known as a Friend of Free Soil and Free State.Each Assembly District will be entitled to send three delegates to said Convention.JACOB SKINNER, T. B. A. HARRIS,
Chairmen.

Fond du Lac, August 22, 1856.

The Land Grant and the Legislature.

The great business of the present session of our Legislature is the proper disposal of the Land Grant made by Congress to this State, in aid of two Rail Roads, leading Northward and Northwestern to Lake Superior. Our readers need not be told that we have opposed the system of Land Grants to Corporations, as unjust in itself and injurious in its consequences. But Congress has made the Grants, and our State, no doubt, will accept and fit it; and the practical question now is, in what way can the Grant be made most certainly available for the objects intended, and least hurtful to the interests of the State. The Grant, as one reader knows, contemplates the building of two Rail Roads—one leading from Madison, or Columbus; Northwesternly to St. Croix County, and thence to Lake Superior; the other, running Northward from Fond du Lac to Lake Superior. It seems to be conceded that a fair and equitable mode of disposing of the Grant will be to organize two new Companies, the one to build the Northern, and the other the Northwestern road. But as to the latter there is a difference of opinion about the starting point. Madison claims that it should commence there, while Milwaukee, the Lake Shore towns and country generally, as well as many of those on the line of the road, desire to make Columbus the starting point.

The reasons for preferring Columbus are ample and obvious. Columbus is very nearly on a direct air line from Portage City—a point fixed in the grant—to Milwaukee, the Commercial metropolis of the State, and the nearest point towards Milwaukee to which the road can be brought. It is fair to presume that the bulk of the business and travel, from all the counties along the line of the road, will naturally seek the shortest route to the principal manufacturing and shipping port of the State. It is, therefore, as well to let it go to Columbus, and in accordance with every feeling of State pride and every consideration of State policy, that the Land Grant road should be brought to near to the Commercial metropolis of the State as possible.

The Beaver Dam, Scio, and the Bucanneer organizes for that section of Dodge County—publishes the call for a K. N. State Convention to get up a genuine electoral ticket in this State, in the vain hope of helping Mr. Buchanan, with the following commentary remarks:

“As will be seen by a notice in this paper, the National American party of Wisconsin are determined to try their strength at the coming election. They have organized a number of local and national associations of the North, who have no principles for the public eye, but depend entirely upon falsehood for success. We have no sympathy whatever with Know Nothingism, though we are free to confess that the ‘Bucanneer’ is far less dangerous than the other institutions, than is the

‘Protestant’—but we do not know what they may do, if they take the pains to inform himself may know, is a Protestant.”

The great number of the people of Ohio were last assembled at the Hotel of Dodd, in the city of Milwaukee, on the 25th day of September instant 1856 which

Mr. for the purpose of placing in nomination a suitable candidate to be supported at the next election for Member of Congress, who is known as a Friend of

Free Soil and Free State.

Each Assembly District will be entitled to send three

delegates to said Convention.

JACOB SKINNER,
T. B. A. HARRIS,
Chairmen.

Fond du Lac, August 22, 1856.

The Natural Allies.

The Beaver Dam, Scio, and the Bucanneer organizes for that section of Dodge County—publishes the call for a K. N. State Convention to get up a genuine electoral ticket in this State, in the vain hope of helping Mr. Buchanan, with the following

commentary remarks:

“As will be seen by a notice in this paper, the National American party of Wisconsin are determined to try their strength at the coming election. They have organized a number of local and national associations of the North, who have no principles for the public eye, but depend entirely upon falsehood for success. We have no sympathy whatever with Know Nothingism, though we are free to confess that the ‘Bucanneer’ is far less dangerous than the other institutions, than is the

‘Protestant’—but we do not know what they may do, if they take the pains to inform himself may know, is a Protestant.”

The great number of the people of Ohio were last assembled at the Hotel of Dodd, in the city of Milwaukee, on the 25th day of September instant 1856 which

Mr. for the purpose of placing in nomination a suitable

candidate to be supported at the next election for Member of Congress, who is known as a Friend of

Free Soil and Free State.

Each Assembly District will be entitled to send three

delegates to said Convention.

JACOB SKINNER,
T. B. A. HARRIS,
Chairmen.

Fond du Lac, August 22, 1856.

The Land Grant and the Legislature.

The great business of the present session of our Legislature is the proper disposal of the Land Grant made by Congress to this State, in aid of two Rail Roads, leading Northward and Northwestern to Lake Superior. Our readers need not be told that we have opposed the system of Land Grants to Corporations, as unjust in itself and injurious in its consequences. But Congress has made the Grants, and our State, no doubt, will accept and fit it; and the practical question now is, in what way can the Grant be made most certainly available for the objects intended, and least hurtful to the interests of the State. The Grant, as one reader knows, contemplates the building of two Rail Roads—one leading from Madison, or Columbus; Northwesternly to St. Croix County, and thence to Lake Superior; the other, running Northward from Fond du Lac to Lake Superior. It seems to be conceded that a fair and equitable mode of disposing of the Grant will be to organize two new Companies, the one to build the Northern, and the other the Northwestern road. But as to the latter there is a difference of opinion about the starting point. Madison claims that it should commence there, while Milwaukee, the Lake Shore towns and country generally, as well as many of those on the line of the road, desire to make Columbus the starting point.

The reasons for preferring Columbus are ample and obvious. Columbus is very nearly on a direct air line from Portage City—a point fixed in the grant—to Milwaukee, the Commercial metropolis of the State, and the nearest point towards Milwaukee to which the road can be brought. It is fair to presume that the bulk of the business and travel, from all the counties along the line of the road, will naturally seek the shortest route to the principal manufacturing and shipping port of the State. It is, therefore, as well to let it go to Columbus, and in accordance with every feeling of State pride and every consideration of State policy, that the Land Grant road should be brought to near to the Commercial metropolis of the State as possible.

The Beaver Dam, Scio, and the Bucanneer organizes for that section of Dodge County—publishes the call for a K. N. State Convention to get up a genuine electoral ticket in this State, in the vain hope of helping Mr. Buchanan, with the following

commentary remarks:

“As will be seen by a notice in this paper, the National American party of Wisconsin are determined to try their strength at the coming election. They have organized a number of local and national associations of the North, who have no principles for the public eye, but depend entirely upon falsehood for success. We have no sympathy whatever with Know Nothingism, though we are free to confess that the ‘Bucanneer’ is far less dangerous than the other institutions, than is the

‘Protestant’—but we do not know what they may do, if they take the pains to inform himself may know, is a Protestant.”

The great number of the people of Ohio were last assembled at the Hotel of Dodd, in the city of Milwaukee, on the 25th day of September instant 1856 which

Mr. for the purpose of placing in nomination a suitable

candidate to be supported at the next election for Member of Congress, who is known as a Friend of

Free Soil and Free State.

Each Assembly District will be entitled to send three

delegates to said Convention.

JACOB SKINNER,
T. B. A. HARRIS,
Chairmen.

Fond du Lac, August 22, 1856.

The Land Grant and the Legislature.

The great business of the present session of our Legislature is the proper disposal of the Land Grant made by Congress to this State, in aid of two Rail Roads, leading Northward and Northwestern to Lake Superior. Our readers need not be told that we have opposed the system of Land Grants to Corporations, as unjust in itself and injurious in its consequences. But Congress has made the Grants, and our State, no doubt, will accept and fit it; and the practical question now is, in what way can the Grant be made most certainly available for the objects intended, and least hurtful to the interests of the State. The Grant, as one reader knows, contemplates the building of two Rail Roads—one leading from Madison, or Columbus; Northwesternly to St. Croix County, and thence to Lake Superior; the other, running Northward from Fond du Lac to Lake Superior. It seems to be conceded that a fair and equitable mode of disposing of the Grant will be to organize two new Companies, the one to build the Northern, and the other the Northwestern road. But as to the latter there is a difference of opinion about the starting point. Madison claims that it should commence there, while Milwaukee, the Lake Shore towns and country generally, as well as many of those on the line of the road, desire to make Columbus the starting point.

The reasons for preferring Columbus are ample and obvious. Columbus is very nearly on a direct air line from Portage City—a point fixed in the grant—to Milwaukee, the Commercial metropolis of the State, and the nearest point towards Milwaukee to which the road can be brought. It is fair to presume that the bulk of the business and travel, from all the counties along the line of the road, will naturally seek the shortest route to the principal manufacturing and shipping port of the State. It is, therefore, as well to let it go to Columbus, and in accordance with every feeling of State pride and every consideration of State policy, that the Land Grant road should be brought to near to the Commercial metropolis of the State as possible.

The Beaver Dam, Scio, and the Bucanneer organizes for that section of Dodge County—publishes the call for a K. N. State Convention to get up a genuine electoral ticket in this State, in the vain hope of helping Mr. Buchanan, with the following

commentary remarks:

“As will be seen by a notice in this paper, the National American party of Wisconsin are determined to try their strength at the coming election. They have organized a number of local and national associations of the North, who have no principles for the public eye, but depend entirely upon falsehood for success. We have no sympathy whatever with Know Nothingism, though we are free to confess that the ‘Bucanneer’ is far less dangerous than the other institutions, than is the

‘Protestant’—but we do not know what they may do, if they take the pains to inform himself may know, is a Protestant.”

The great number of the people of Ohio were last assembled at the Hotel of Dodd, in the city of Milwaukee, on the 25th day of September instant 1856 which

Mr. for the purpose of placing in nomination a suitable

candidate to be supported at the next election for Member of Congress, who is known as a Friend of

Free Soil and Free State.

Each Assembly District will be entitled to send three

delegates to said Convention.

JACOB SKINNER,
T. B. A. HARRIS,
Chairmen.

Fond du Lac, August 22, 1856.

The Land Grant and the Legislature.

The great business of the present session of our Legislature is the proper disposal of the Land Grant made by Congress to this State, in aid of two Rail Roads, leading Northward and Northwestern to Lake Superior. Our readers need not be told that we have opposed the system of Land Grants to Corporations, as unjust in itself and injurious in its consequences. But Congress has made the Grants, and our State, no doubt, will accept and fit it; and the practical question now is, in what way can the Grant be made most certainly available for the objects intended, and least hurtful to the interests of the State. The Grant, as one reader knows, contemplates the building of two Rail Roads—one leading from Madison, or Columbus; Northwesternly to St. Croix County, and thence to Lake Superior; the other, running Northward from Fond du Lac to Lake Superior. It seems to be conceded that a fair and equitable mode of disposing of the Grant will be to organize two new Companies, the one to build the Northern, and the other the Northwestern road. But as to the latter there is a difference of opinion about the starting point. Madison claims that it should commence there, while Milwaukee, the Lake Shore towns and country generally, as well as many of those on the line of the road, desire to make Columbus the starting point.

The reasons for preferring Columbus are ample and obvious. Columbus is very nearly on a direct air line from Portage City—a point fixed in the grant—to Milwaukee, the Commercial metropolis of the State, and the nearest point towards Milwaukee to which the road can be brought. It is fair to presume that the bulk of the business and travel, from all the counties along the line of the road, will naturally seek the shortest route to the principal manufacturing and shipping port of the State. It is, therefore, as well to let it go to Columbus, and in accordance with every feeling of State pride and every consideration of State policy, that the Land Grant road should be brought to near to the Commercial metropolis of the State as possible.

The Beaver Dam, Scio, and the Bucanneer organizes for that section of Dodge County—publishes the call for a K. N. State Convention to get up a genuine electoral ticket in this State, in the vain hope of helping Mr. Buchanan, with the following

commentary remarks:

“As will be seen by a notice in this paper, the National American party of Wisconsin are determined to try their strength at the coming election. They have organized a number of local and national associations of the North, who have no principles for the public eye, but depend entirely upon falsehood for success. We have no sympathy whatever with Know Nothingism, though we are free to confess that the ‘Bucanneer’ is far less dangerous than the other institutions, than is the

‘Protestant’—but we do not know what they may do, if they take the pains to inform himself may know, is a Protestant.”

The great number of the people of Ohio were last assembled at the Hotel of Dodd, in the city of Milwaukee, on the 25th day of September instant 1856 which

Mr. for the purpose of placing in nomination a suitable

candidate to be supported at the next election for Member of Congress, who is known as a Friend of

Free Soil and Free State.

Each Assembly District will be entitled to send three

delegates to said Convention.

JACOB SKINNER,
T. B. A. HARRIS,
Chairmen.

Fond du Lac, August 22, 1856.

The Land Grant and the Legislature.

The great business of the present session of our Legislature is the proper disposal of the Land Grant made by Congress to this State, in aid of two Rail Roads, leading Northward and Northwestern to Lake Superior. Our readers need not be told that we have opposed the system of Land Grants to Corporations, as unjust in itself and injurious in its consequences. But Congress has made the Grants, and our State, no doubt, will accept and fit it; and the practical question now is, in what way can the Grant be made most certainly available for the objects intended, and least hurtful to the interests of the State. The Grant, as one reader knows, contemplates the building of two Rail Roads—one leading from Madison, or Columbus; Northwesternly to St. Croix County, and thence to Lake Superior; the other, running Northward from Fond du Lac to Lake Superior. It seems to be conceded that a fair and equitable mode of disposing of the Grant will be to organize two new Companies, the one to build the Northern, and the other the Northwestern road. But as to the latter there is a difference of opinion about the starting point. Madison claims that it should commence there, while Milwaukee, the Lake Shore towns and country generally, as well as many of those on the line of the road, desire to make Columbus the starting point.

The reasons for preferring Columbus are ample and obvious. Columbus is very nearly on a direct air line from Portage City—a point fixed in the grant—to Milwaukee, the Commercial metropolis of the State, and the nearest point towards Milwaukee to which the road can be brought. It is fair to presume that the bulk of the business and travel, from all the counties along the line of the road, will naturally seek the shortest route to the principal manufacturing and shipping port of the State. It is, therefore, as well to let it go to Columbus, and in accordance with every feeling of State pride and every consideration of State policy, that the Land Grant road should be brought to near to the Commercial metropolis of the State as possible.

The Beaver Dam, Scio, and the Bucanneer organizes for that section of Dodge County—publishes the call for a K. N. State Convention to get up a genuine electoral ticket in this State, in the vain hope of helping Mr. Buchanan, with the following

commentary remarks:

“As will be seen by a notice in this paper, the National American party of Wisconsin are determined to try their strength at the coming election. They have organized a number of local and national associations of the North, who have no principles for the public eye, but depend entirely upon falsehood for success. We have no sympathy whatever with Know Nothingism, though we are free to confess that the ‘Bucanneer’ is far less dangerous than the other institutions, than is the

‘Protestant’—but we do not know what they may do, if they take the pains to inform himself may know, is a Protestant.”

The great number of the people of Ohio were last assembled at the Hotel of Dodd, in the city of Milwaukee, on the 25th day of September instant 1856 which

Mr. for the purpose of placing in nomination a suitable

candidate to be supported at the next election for Member of Congress, who is known as a Friend of

Free Soil and Free State.

Each Assembly District will be entitled to send three

delegates to said Convention.

JACOB SKINNER,
T. B. A. HARRIS,
Chairmen.

Fond du Lac, August 22, 1856.

The Land Grant and the Legislature.

The great business of the present session of our Legislature is the proper disposal of the Land Grant made by Congress to this State, in aid of two Rail Roads, leading Northward and Northwestern to Lake Superior. Our readers need not be told that we have opposed the system of Land Grants to Corporations, as unjust in itself and injurious in its consequences. But Congress has made the Grants, and our State, no doubt, will accept and fit it; and the practical question now is, in what way can the Grant be made most certainly available for the objects intended, and least hurtful to the interests of the State. The Grant, as one reader knows, contemplates the building of two Rail Roads—one leading from Madison, or Columbus; Northwesternly to St. Croix County, and thence to Lake Superior; the other, running Northward from Fond du Lac to

INSTRUCTION.

ENGLISH AND MERCANTILE ACADEMY,
No. 40 Wisconsin Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

THE PRINCIPAL, RESPECTFULLY
Informs the Public that the full term of his School commences, Sunday, Sept. 18, 1856, in successful operation for seven years, he has now commenced a term of the last session, on the 20th inst., the following important subjects will be taught: Latin, French, German, and Spanish; also,一切的 subjects of science & literature and the principles of business, and the best methods of conducting a business.

The Assistant Teachers are employed during the Fall and Winter months.

PRIVATE DEPARTMENT.

Accommodation is given in this department, and children are received at any age.

THE LADIES' DEPARTMENT.

Is conducted by Miss Mary C. Miller, a young lady, in every respect well qualified for her profession. Connection, Art, Drawing, Music, Latin, German, and Mathematics, French, English, and German languages, and is designed to prepare young ladies for college or for the best schools of Europe.

Students admitted any time, day or evening.
For information, address to the Principal.

Students admitted any time, day or evening.
The principal is greatly anxious to have all students admitted to his school.

Students admitted any time, day or evening.

Students admitted any time, day or evening.